Woman's Obristian Temperance Union.

The Woman's National Christian Temperance Union, with its twenty three auxiliary state unions, is the largest society ever composed of and conducted exclusive by by wheren. It is the lineal descendant of the great temperance crusade of 1873-4, and is a Union of all Christian Churches for the purpose of educating the young, forming a better public sentiment, reforming the drinking class, transforming, by the power of divine grace, those who are enabyed by alcohol, and removing the dramathop from our streets by law. For five years the entire service rendered has been gratuitous, and the average total receipts have not exceeded one thousand dollars a year.

focupits have not exceeded one mouseaud dollars a year.

In view of the unspeakable need of just such work, the good stready accomplished and the utter inadequacy of the fundarescoived from the sinte auxiliaries, an earment and prayerful appeal is made to all who have the temperance cause at heart, and who have been blessed with money, to help with their free-will offerings, which shall be consolentiously applied to chrysing forward the work of the nich shall be constitutiously ap-

To Women.

This was originally written to the wo-nen of Kausas, by a correspondent of the Laurence Journal, but is adapted to wo-nen of office places as well, for constituial amendments are to come up in per men of other places as well, for constitutional amendments are to come up in perhaps every state:

Woman's work, her duties, wrongs and rights, each have been sung in every clime, have been borne to our cars on every breeze, and on through coming ages will be the theire of eartiest tongues and ready writers. But just now, I do not care to call attention to but one subject, and that is, what is the duty of Kansess women in regard to the great question of the day. The Prohibitionary Amendment. When so much that concern her happiness of these dearer to her than her own Hig. is at stake, shall she sit idly down with folded hands and silent lips while the contest wages and the crisis approaches. It may be said there are many women who are sitedly in the field. True, and all honor to the noble ones who are at the front, and may the God of Israel bloss them and pour out his spirit upon them, that they may speak words that shall never be, forgotten. But it is not such whose attention I wish to attract. There are all over our state those who know that the battle is raping, and if they think at all, hope that the temperance cause will triumph; yet they are carcless, so far as their own efforts are concerned. They ait down and say, "I have no influence: I can do nothing." Do you my sister, really think you have no influence. Has God made you and placed you in this beautiful world to be the toy and play thing of the hour! Has he not given you heart and intallect to exercise, that you wield an influence second to mene? Cast your mind's eve over past, ages and see what woman has done. Not we dare not refuse to meet the responsibilities of the hour. What account shall we render to these dearer to her than her own tilly, to a stake, whall are set it diffy town with titler on stake on the through the set of the country folded hands and silent lips while the context ways and the trials approaches. It may be said there are many women when the storage should be set in the state of the country that he set of about 4 feet of the country that he mode ones who are as the front, and may the God of Israel blees then and power to the spirit upon them, that they may speak words that shall never be, forgotister. But it is not state, that they may speak words that shall never be forgotister. But it is not state, the battle of registers and in the state of about 42 feet below the most of the compressed are concerned. They are the battle own efforts are concerned. They are the concerned to the c

Oh, no! we are not powerless. Let us wake! The day is far spent; we aiready hear the watchman crying: "What o' the clock" Let us be up and doing, that the answer may echo-from hill-top to valley, "All is well."

Working Under the Hudson.

At the foot of Fifteenth street, Jersey City, a low wooden building has been enseted, which has the appearance of an overgrown shanty rather than the beginning of an important and diellouit work. This building contains the office of the Hudson Tunnel Railroad Campany, and also the engines, electric generator and air compresser. In the center of the building a shaft thirty feet in diameter has been suck to the depth of sixy feet. Its lower portion is used as a receiving bank for the mud removed from the tunnel. About midway down the shaft has been sloved over. Jutting out from the river side of this shaft is what appears to be a large from boiler. This is the "air-lock," an air tight chamber made of one half luch rolled iron and six feet in diameter and affects feet in length, through which everything passes in emering or leaving the tunnel. By its use persons passing in are gradually accustoment to the changes in air, pressure, about six minutes usually being taken in the operation. From the air lock, which is a little above the top of the tunnel proper, the excavation was extended at a gradual derities until the required depth was reached—about sixty feet below high water. The exterior structure or shell of the tunnel consists of a cylinder of one half help beiler plate iron, with a line of brick two feet thick accuracy unchored to it. Head, think, talk and act. Do not let it be said of us. "The women of Kanasa have been weighed in the balance and found wanting." Rather lot it be said, "They have done what they could." If that is done a newday will dawn; a bright sun will shine upon Kanasa homes, and many a said and weary face will light up with renewed hope, and life will again seem a precious boon to many a faint beart.

You may say, "We cannot vote." But can, you not influence one vote? Let us yote by proxy! Mothers, have you not sons who go to the ballot-box for the first time this year? Can you not influence one vote? Let us yote by proxy! Mothers, have you not sons who go to the ballot-box for the first time this year? Can you not influence which surrounded the fathers of our common enemy? Such was the influence which surrounded the fathers of our country; and we all know what privations and hardships they cadured, that our country might be freed from the thraldom of a tyraunical power.
